

Removal of Cosmetic Skin Lesions

Most insurance plans do not cover procedures to remove cosmetic skin lesions; however, we can still arrange to have many of these lesions removed in our office. After determining that you have a cosmetic lesion, we will discuss the options with you. If you would like us to perform the procedure, we ask that you sign this waiver signifying that the procedure performed will be your financial responsibility.

In an effort to keep the cost as low as possible, we request that you pay at the time the procedure is performed. The cost of the procedure varies depending on the complexity. If you believe that your insurance does cover the removal of the lesion(s) in question, it is your responsibility to obtain prior written approval from your insurance company before proceeding.

We hope this expanded service helps to meet your medical needs.

Please speak to one of our receptionists if you have any further questions.
